

Kagan Coaching

Crank Up Teaching Skills with Kagan!

Kagan has developed a revolutionary coaching method that gets results! Most forms of coaching involve observation of a lesson, followed by evaluation. Not Kagan Coaching! Instead of observing a full lesson, Kagan Coaching focuses on a single structure. By properly implementing Kagan Structures, teachers boost engagement and learning. The feedback is in real time, not afterwards in a follow-up meeting. Teachers put the coaching tip into practice immediately and discover how small tweaks in a structure make a major difference in learning for students. Kagan Coaching is designed to support teachers, not evaluate them, as they add powerful teaching tools to their teaching toolboxes!

Bring a Kagan Coach to Your School!

- ★ Your Kagan Coach can coach approximately 16–20 teachers per day.
- ★ Teachers sign up for structures ahead of time.
- ★ Teachers receive coaching checklists in advance. There are no surprises!
- ★ Your Kagan Coach provides specific feedback to teachers and general feedback for the entire building!
- ★ Administrators and instructional coaches are encouraged to accompany your Kagan Coach to provide ongoing teacher feedback.
- ★ Your Kagan Coach can provide a summary session at the end of the day to celebrate successes and identify next steps.
- ★ To maximize coaching success, Kagan recommends coaching occur at least once a quarter and within 4–6 weeks of initial training.
