

It's All About Engagement!

Invest Your ARRA Funds Wisely—Invest In Kagan

At Kagan Publishing & Professional Development, we understand the unique challenges faced by today's schools and districts needing to utilize the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) funding appropriately, expeditiously, and with accountability. We're here to help!

ARRA funding provides a wonderful opportunity for America to invest in education. But with this opportunity comes stipulations and responsibility. When you invest in Kagan, you can be confident that you are meeting the requirements of ARRA funds in the following ways.

Kagan professional development workshops and resources:

- Improve student achievement and teacher effectiveness.
- Close the achievement gap.
- Reach high academic standards, as measured by achievement scores.
- Have proven, sustainable results and ongoing usability in subsequent years beyond purchase.
- Require a short-term investment, but have the potential for long-term benefits.

Invest in an approach to teaching that is backed by years of extensive research. Kagan produces dramatic gains for all students and closes the achievement gap. Invest in an approach that actively engages students.

Kagan qualifies for funding from:

► Funding Source	► How Kagan Qualifies
Title I	Boosting achievement and reducing the achievement gap
IDEA	Promoting inclusive classroom practices including cooperative learning, classbuilding, and communitybuilding
Stabilization Funding	Enhancing teacher effectiveness via professional development and professional resources
